Requesting Permission for Linguistics 3RP3 Research Practicum

Eligibility
1. LINGUIST 3RP3 is open to any student enrolled in an Honours B.A. program in Linguistics or Cognitive Science of Language, provided a faculty member accepts the student.

Proposal and Approval
2. In the spring of the year before the student wishes to enrol in Ling 3RP3, the student should approach a faculty member whose research interests them, to inquire as to whether any 3RP3 positions will be available in the coming year. The faculty member may request a transcript or an interview in deciding whether to accept the student into the Research Practicum.
3. If the faculty member agrees to accept the student into the Research Practicum, the student and the supervisor together prepare a one-page description of the student’s responsibilities in the practicum. The proposal must include:
   a. the course code requested
   b. a brief description of what tasks are involved in the practicum and approximately how many hours of work are expected
   c. written indication of the faculty member’s availability and willingness to supervise the practicum
4. The student submits the proposal by email to the Undergraduate Chair by June 1, copying the supervisor.
5. The Undergraduate Chair responds to the proposal, copying the student, the supervisor, and the Administrative Assistant, before the student’s Mosaic enrolment date.
6. The Administrative Assistant enters the registration permission for the student on Mosaic.
